

Virgiliu IVAN

National Dispatch Center – Transelectrica

Mr. Virgiliu Ivan has extensive experience exceeding 20 years in the energy sector. His tenure at NPG Transelectrica spans his entire career, during which he has occupied pivotal roles, culminating in his current position as the Director of the National Dispatch Center since 2014.

Commencing his career in 1999 as an engineer at S.T.D Bucharest, Mr. Ivan swiftly advanced to pivotal roles, such as the Chief Dispatcher at both the Territorial Dispatch Center in Bucharest from 2000 to 2002, and the National Dispatch Center from 2002 to 2006. Progressing further, he undertook the mantle of Shift Chief Dispatcher from 2005 to 2008, followed by the role of Head of Programming and Operation Analysis from 2008 to 2013. His ascent continued with his appointment as the Director of the Operational Division, entrusted with overseeing the operational management activities of the National Dispatch Center until assuming the role of Director in 2014.

Moreover, Mr. Virgiliu Ivan was appointed as a member of the Board of Directors of NPG Transelectrica from October to December 2019.

Mr. Virgiliu Ivan is an alumnus of the Polytechnic University of Bucharest (UPB), having graduated in 1999 with Electroenergetics. He pursued advanced studies at UPB from 1999 to 2000, specializing in Power Plant and Station Electrical Processes Management, Techniques, and Technologies.

