

Rareş HURGHÎŞ

Strategic Project Manager position, ENGIE Romania

Rareş Hurghiş owns a PhD in economics from Babeş-Bolyai University from Cluj-Napoca. He has 12 years of experience in the energy sector (distribution and supply, natural gas and electricity, renewable energies, e-mobility, decentralized PV, biomethane, hydrogen) within two of the largest energy companies in Romania.

Now, he holds the Strategic Project Manager position within ENGIE Romania.

He is also Board Advisor in FEL Romania and previously coordinated the Romania FEL Program for two years.

He has expertise in the areas of strategy, business development, finance, respectively in implementing strategic and transformational projects. He has a strong interest in the sustainability area and new technologies that help us to reduce the impact on the environment.

